Landhaus Schwarzingen

pension in St. Johann in Tirol

The "Landhaus Schwarzingen" is one of the oldest buildings at St. Johann. It is reconstructed as a comfortable boarding-house. The house is situated in the centre of the village but it is also a quiet place, surrounded by a large lawn and a playing ground. Breakfast, including dairy products from the family owned farm, is served in the "Bauernstube" which is also used as a place to meet the other guests and to enjoy your stay. The ski lifts can be easily reached by car, ski-bus (30 m to the station) or walking (15 Min.). The entrance to the cross-country skiing trails is next to the house. Child reduction on request!

Elisabeth und Andreas Trenner

Welcome to the town center of St. Johann in Tirol, where baroque frescoes meets honest hospitality.

Landhaus Schwarzingen, a place – of calm and inspiration – of good conversations and nonsense – of meetings and reflection and a house of beauty, inside, outside, and among the people who inhabit it year-round (quote from our guest book) We look forward to your visit.
